CONVITTO BATTISTI – VIA CESARE BATTISTI 1 LOVERE PREPARING STUDENTS FOR THE NEW A2 KEY AND B1 PRELIMINARY READING & WRITING

Have the exams changed again? Why are they doing this to us?

To make sure the exams are in line with the latest research in language learning and teaching, Cambridge Assessment English update them regularly. A2 Key, A2 Key for Schools, B1 Preliminary and B1 Preliminary for Schools have undergone a thorough review to ensure that these exams continue to remain relevant to the needs of schools and learners of today.

In this session, we are going to have a look at the changes in the Reading and Writing papers of both A2 Key (for Schools) and B1 Preliminary (for Schools) and how we can prepare our learners for the new format of these exams. We will consider ways of helping students read and write in English at A2 and B1, demonstrate practical ideas for developing students' reading and writing skills and consider how to apply the exam writing assessment criteria in class.

Prem Sourek is Director of Studies at Anderson House Bergamo – a private language school and a Cambridge Centre for Lombardy. He has been teaching English for more than 10 years and has worked with students between the ages of 5 and 70 in the UK, Czechia, Romania, Portugal and now Italy. He is CELTA and DELTA qualified and has a specialization in teaching Young Learners. Apart from being a Cambridge Speaking Examiner, he is also a CELTA tutor at AH. He is particularly interested in the areas of INSETT, coaching and using technology in language teaching. Prem loves music, films and travelling and has visited 23 countries in Europe.
